COMMISSIONERS WILL WATCH CLOSELY BALLOT PREPARATION

Too Many Mistakes at Time Of Primaries to Suit Members of Board

CONTRACT AWARD IS HELD UP

Pittsburg Firm Bids Low, But Objections Are Made Concerning Their Work—Ballots Will be of Large Size.

That the county commissioners will watch carefully the preparation of the general election ballots, and that the printers who print them must do the same was indicated Thursday when the commissioners declined to award to a Pittsburg firm the contract because of objections to the manner in which the primary ballots were prepared. It was stated that the company did not use the kind of paper specified, that the ballots were delivered late, that errors crept in, one in particular being the dropping of a school director candidate's name resulting in his defeat. It was also stated that the company asked an exorbitant price for the printing of extra ballots.

There were just two bidders when the bids were opened. One was from the Ward Printing company of Washington for the ballots in bulk form, $1,575. The other was from the Pittsburg Printing company with a bid of $14 per thousand. As there are 64,147 ballots to be printed this bid would total $898.06. Knowing the objections to the Pittsburg firm's work the Ward company in support of its work said that it had heretofore done the work and had never failed in the specifications and had never made a blunder. The matter was discussed by the commissioners and controller and taken under advisement.

The Pittsburg firm gave bond for the primary ballots and no final settlement has yet been made. The official ballot for the November election, now being prepared, will be unusually large this fall. In size it will be 22 by 28 inches. Clerk H. R. Campbell has blocked out the ballot, as it will be used in this county, according to the plan in the specimen ballot in the following order: Democrat, Washington, Republican, Socialist, and Prohibition. The fact that a number of Washington party nominations were made requires that this party name go on the ballot.

As usual the first block on the ballot is the straight party ticket. Then comes the non-partisan ticket, the judicial candidates. A vote in the straight party square does not vote the non-partisan ticket. Next to the non-partisan block will come the county ticket and after that the municipal and township tickets.

The four constitutional amendments are voluminous and will occupy the space of a column and a half on the ballot. That for woman's suffrage sets forth the qualifications of a voter at length, substituting the expressions "he or she," "himself or herself" and the like wherever the masculine pronoun now occurs.

Of the other three amendments No. 2 is to permit the city of Philadelphia to increase its debt limit from 7 to 10 per cent; No. 3 is de-

GREAT SUFFRAGE MEETING MONDAY

Alexander Irvine, Widely Known Assistant Pastor To Speak Here

LIFE IS REMARKABLE ONE

Big, breezy and filled to overflowing with brilliant Irish wit that has endeared him to all who have heard his lectures or sermons or who have read his books, is Alexander Irvine, who will be the speaker at a great suffrage mass meeting at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue Monday evening.

His life has been a remarkable one. From a barefoot Irish urchin, the son of a poor cobbler he rose through his own efforts to be assistant pastor of the Church of the Ascension, a great New York church, which has reached out into all parts of the metropolis and become a church for all the people.

As a lad he was a farmer's boy. He joined the English army and later the English navy to get an education. Then he studied under several famous Oxford professors. He came to America to seek his fortune in New York, and while he worked at a dozen different jobs in the daytime he did missionary work at night among the outcasts of the Bowery. He went to Yale to continue his studies and while there he was made pastor of the New Haven church. His independence made enemies for him so he went west and became a miner. He worked with pick and shovel for several years in the west and in the south. Magazine stories which he wrote describing his experiences gained him the call to the New York church.

signed to make certain constitutional the workmen's compensation and employers' liability legislation of the last legislature and No. 4 authorizes a system regulating the insuring and guaranteeing land titles.

MANY COUNTIES ARE INVADED BY HUNTERS

Season Opens Today in Pennsylvania—Game Animals And Birds Reported Plentiful in All Parts of State

Within fifteen counties of the state closed for hunting certain game; with game animals and birds reported plenty in all quarters; with wild turkeys again subject to slaughter, and with other important changes in the laws to be borne constantly in mind, thousands of modern nimrods invading Pennsylvania's hunting grounds today. The general hunting season has opened.

The only game which may not be killed during the season, which began today are deer, for which the season is from December 1 to 15; elk, protected absolutely until 1921; hare and rabbits for which the season is the month of November; upland or grass plover, protected by federal law until 1918; shore birds, protected by federal law until 1918, excepting black-breasted and golden plover, jack snipe, woodcock and yellow legs and web-footed wild water fowl, which season closed under federal law October 1.

All other game may be killed during the approaching season, but the redbird season, which is controlled by federal law and which opened on September 1, will close October 31.

Wild turkeys, which could not be killed in 1913 and 1914 under an act of 1913 to permit propagation, are again thrown before the huntsman and may be shot at any time until November 30, with the limit of two per hunter per season, and those two may not be killed during the same week.

The rabbit season, which will open November 1 and run for only a month is also curtailed. Hitherto the season has run until January 1. Dr. Joseph Kaubfus, secretary of the state game commission says the slaughter will be great this fall, if any estimates can be made from the reports of game. Game warden all declare an abundance; similar word comes from foresters and forest rangers, department of health inspectors, state police and other attaches of the state government who have business where game is to be seen.

Doctor Kaubfus says that reports from county treasurers indicate that more hunters' licenses have been issued this year than at the same time last year, with every reason to believe that last year's total of more than 300,000 will be broken.

TOMORROW'S GAME THE HARDEST OF THE SEASON

What will prove the Charleroi high school's first hard test at home will be that of the game tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 with the Washington high school all the athletic field. Both teams are contenders for the county championship, and even this early in the season it is easy to be seen that the real fight will be between these two teams. Coach Brown of Washington is bringing his strongest team here and Coach Gdaniec will show his best hand against the county seat warriors. Probably a good-sized delegation of rooters will accompany the visitors here.

EAGER DEMAND FOR TICKETS FOR RECITAL OF TONIGHT

An eager demand for tickets is reported for the recital to be given tonight by Miss Mary Margaret Chester at the high school auditorium. Miss Chester will be assisted by Mrs. P. Floyd Chalfant, pianist, Miss Grace E. Chester, contralto and the high school girls' quartet consisting of Miss Jean Bowers, Miss Thelma Duvall, Miss Grace Fleming and Miss Grace Chester.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURG TO FACE INDIANS SATURDAY

The University of Pittsburg football team faces its first real hard proposition at home Saturday when the Carlisle Indians come to Forbes field, Pittsburg for a battle with the team coached by Glenn S. Warner. Unusual interest attaches to this game for the reason that Warner formerly coached the Indians and it was under his tutelage that they gained their greatest fame. Coming as it does before the game with the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin field October 23, the Indian game is really the season's turning point. If the Blue and Gold can vanquish the Redskins by a good sized score, their stock for the Penn game will be greatly boosted.

THE VALUE OF CAUTION

Coke puts it negatively. His maxim is that "abundant caution does no harm." Perhaps to no class in our modern life does this apply so directly and frequently as to the driver of automobiles, says the Pittsburg Cazette Times. The deplorable accident to Judge and Mrs. William A.
Way of Sewickley on Tuesday in which Mrs. Way lost her life, appeals with tragic force for the observance and value of proper caution.
It is well enough to inveigh against the menace and nuisance of grade crossings, to agitate and legislate for their elimination, but as long as they remain and wherever they are and are known to the wayfarer to exist, the personal and moral responsibility, no matter what the legal status of the situation may be, rests in considerable measure upon the individual afout or in a highway vehicle attempting to cross.

It is not possible under the circumstances that existed in this case for the motor operator to be too careful.
Railroad trains and trolley cars run on a definite right of way. They cannot depart from that, and in a crisis, or at a critical point on surprise, it is not always possible for them to stop in time. The imminence of peril to the man on the street or country road, moreover, is evident. He cannot know at what time a car or an engine will approach. The necessity of abundance of caution, therefore, is ever-present; and he who disregards it or ignores it takes a fearful risk. The reflection—if there be such—that in case of collision, the company can be held liable, is of scant comfort in the presence of a great domestic affliction and terrible injuries and will not mitigate the grief of bereaved relatives and dependents.

Probably the besetting mistake of automobile owners and chauffeurs is that they permit familiarity with speed, danger and narrow escapes from harm to breed a contempt which fairly obsesses them. The result is to spread over the tale of the year, in the newspapers, a bloody and gruesome record in which the names of people of prominence of high standing, of worth to the community and of great promise, appear with appalling frequency. Men and women of exemplary prudence in their ordinary relations who would shun recklessness in other shape, and whose very lives are a protest against the commoner forms of folly, seem to lose sight of their cautious qualities and their accustomed conceptions of safety when they set out in their motors for a bit of fresh air and country scenery.

By the death of Dr. N. W. Patton the career of one of the town's foremost physicians is closed. Dr. Patton came to Charleroi when Charleroi was in its infancy and established a practice that since has grown and flourished. He was a good physician of that fine old school type. His heart and soul was in his profession and his kind and wholesome advice with his wide medical knowledge made him always dependable, and created for him legions of friends.

Dr. Patton was a man who loved his family and a man who adhered as closely as he could to that divine command, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." He was a citizen who was interested always in good government and one who constantly strove for clean election of clean officers. Dr.
Patton occupied an important place in the life of the community and his demise will be greatly mourned.

Banks in all parts of the United States during the last two years have been enthusiastically pushing the idea of the Christmas saving fund.
It is indeed a good plan, with lots to commend it. Not only is it a means of preparing people for their heavy Christmas expenditures by removing the probability of bankruptcy to buy a few presents, but it encourages industrial savings. Anything that stimulates saving and economy is a good thing.

Making over Seventh street is about the only thing that could be done by Council to put it in good shape for traffic. The truth may as well be faced one time as another. It is true that cost will be added to the improvement, but that cannot now be helped. When re-paving has to be done, it has to be done. But what a warning against future mistakes Seventh will be!

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The professor of jurisprudence in a western university was lecturing to a hundred embryo lawyers. He asked whether anyone in America could not own property. One young fellow answered: "A criminal can't own property."

But the professor said: "Suppose a man owns a ranch, gets into trouble with his neighbor, assaults him and is put into the penitentiary. Does he still own the ranch?"

The class was unanimous that he did.

"If he did not continue to own it," went on the professor, "what would become of it?"

That was supposed to settle the discussion; but one boy called out:
"The lawyer would get it."

There was a hearty laugh and the professor added:

"We learn two things from that apt remark—be a lawyer and don't be a criminal.—Youth's Companion.

A literary club was recently organized by women in a suburban town.
For a while everything went along beautifully.

One evening while the Browns were having dinner, Mr. Brown asked:
"Well, Inez, did you have a pleasant meeting at your club this afternoon?"

"Oh, yes, dear," replied Mrs.
Brown with great enthusiasm. "It was really a splendid meeting. About the best we have had I think."

"Indeed," said the husband, who was not a firm believer in women's clubs, "what was the topic under discussion today?"

Mrs. Brown couldn't seem to remember at first. Finally, however, she exclaimed triumphantly:

"Oh, yes, I remember! We discussed that brazen-looking woman with red hair that's just moved in across the street and Shakespeare."

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Father Tells How Boy Was Restored to Health and Strength.

We have always told the people of Charleroi that Vinol is a wonderful body builder for ailing children. Here is more proof for the fact—

J. L. Albury of Miami, Fla. says:
"Our little boy was punny and cross from the time he was born, and we hardly knew how to handle him. When he was three years old he was weak and so cross we could hardly live with him, and we could not get him to eat anything. A friend asked us to try Vinol. We did so and you should see the change it has made in him. He is now a good-natured, healthy youngster, ready to eat at any time, and we cannot praise Vinol enough."

Vinol is especially efficient in building up punny, weak, ailing children, because of the real cod liver extractives, peptonate of iron and cod peptone which it contains, and as it is without oil or grease children love to take it.

Vinol is for sale in Charleroi by One good thing about being married is that you can always blame it on your wife when you make a mistake.

After all, you don't lose much by be-she wants to marry you.

APEX OF WASHINGTON SHAFT

Few People Know Purpose of Parallel Iron Bands That Bind Brow of Monument.

Few persons who have seen the Washington monument, even those who have lived within sight of it all their lives, have noticed that the apex of the monument is surrounded with parallel bands. Such is the fact, however, and moreover, the bands are studded with golden points. The bands are made of gold-plate! iron a foot wide and the points are spaced a foot from one another.

For a few moments in each sunny day of the first week of the new year the golden fillet that binds the brow of the Washington monument is visible to human eyes. Then the angle of incidence of the sun's rays is such that they are reflected downward to the windows of the buildings north and west of the monument, and the cool, gray surface is seen to be marked with eleven shining lines of gold.

Theoretically, a similar effect could be obtained from some point of observation at each moment when the sun's rays are intercepted by the sloping top of the monument, but only an airship could attain the necessary vantage point.

According to the original plan of the monument, it was protected from lightning by an aluminum tip that was connected with the metal framework of the elevator. During the very first summer after the monument was completed, however, it was struck twice and a piece of stone was clipped from the top.

Experts from the scientific departments of the government were called on to contrive a plan for the better protection of the shaft, and they decided that copper bands, studded with projecting points, would accomplish the purpose. Colonel Casey, who had charge of the work, objected on the ground that copper would turn green and that the verdigris would "run" and spoil the appearance of the monument; he also doubted that the copper would have the necessary tensile strength.

So the men of science agreed on a number of iron bands, heavily galvanized and gold-plated to prevent rusting. The bands are connected with the aluminum point of the monument and the framework of the elevator, and at the base iron cables lead the electricity into a deep well, where it harmlessly expends its force. The protection has proved to be perfect.—

Flowers for Summer Table.

It is so easy, in the country, to keep the house charming with fresh flowers—and any number of vases full will cost nothing at all. If you have not a garden of your own—and there seems no reason why every woman should not have a tiny garden at least if her country domain admits of space to grow them in—the field flowers will answer almost as well. Clover makes an enchanting bouquet, goldenrod is delightful in a brown and yellow living room or in great jars on the porch. The lovely blue gentians, and blue roadside asters are equally charming in slender glass vases. A bit of wire netting fitted into the top of a low fern dish will make it possible to use small flowers to good advantage on the breakfast table. Pansies are lovely used in this way. Nasturtiums or sweet peas will make a bed of glowing color if the stems are thrust through the wire netting of such a receptacle.

BIRTH OF A NATION GOES TO MILES THEATER

Photoplay Will Be Continued

Never in the history of Pittsburgh has there been so much excitement and interest in the historical photoplay "The Birth of a Nation." Since August 1st, when the picture first appeared on the stage, it has been playing every day, and judging from the never ceasing demand for seats, but a small percentage of the people who want to see this remarkable play have had an opportunity to do so. The popularity of the piece in Pittsburgh, already some 150,000 people have attended the performances, and the impossibility of continuing the engagement at the Miles after this Saturday, owing to the theater's contracts with other attractions, decided the management of the big spectacle to make an effort to continue the run at some other Pittsburgh theater. After much deliberation and for the following reasons the Miles theater was chosen; because it is a very beautiful playhouse peculiarly adapted to the exacting requirements of this famous play; because its very large seating capacity means few daily disappointments to patrons; and because its very accessible location on Seventh street and Penn avenue is on all car lines. The move to the Miles will be made on Monday, Oct. 18, and the first performance will be the matinee of that day. The scale of prices will be exactly the same as at the Miles theater viz: Evenings and Saturday matinee, 25 cents to $2; all other matinees, 25 cents to $1.

"The Birth of a Nation" carries its own symphony orchestra of thirty which will be augmented by the Miles theater $30,000 organ. The success of the Griffith masterwork in Pittsburgh is typical of its success in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other large cities. In New York, at the Liberty theater, this pictorial drama has been shown twice a day, seven days a week, since the first of last March—seven months ago—and still the daily attendance seldom falls below 4,000.

"The Birth of a Nation" is history, appealingly, grippingly, dramatically presented in a way history was never before offered. Its marvelous scenes took a month to produce and cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. When one takes into consideration that $50,000 is considered an extreme limit of expenditure for any theatrical production it does not take any particular stretch of the imagination to realize why the public enthuses over the Griffith masterwork.

AMONG THE THEATRES

COYLE-CHARLEROI

An unusually good and well-balanced program of motion pictures was presented to patrons of the Coyle theatre during the past week. Monday "The Regeneration" one of the popular William Fox productions with Rockcliffe Fellows and Anna Nilsson in the leading roles supported by an all star cast was the attraction. Tuesday a comedy drama "Poor Schmaltz," with Sam Bernard, the popular comedian of the American stage, was featured. Francis X. Bushman, who has been termed the "matchless master of the silent art," appeared in the stellar role of "The Silent Voice." He was supported by Marguerite Snow, another screen favorite. On Thursday "The Majesty of the Law" with George Fawcett and on Friday "Judge Not," were shown.

PALACE-CHARLEROI

Commencing with this week the Palace theatre opened the vaudeville season with vaudeville every day. An elaborate bill of three vaudeville acts were presented the first part of the week. Hazel Davenport and company presented as the headline attraction the popular musical travesty "The Prince, the Girl and the Farmer." One of the most pleasing features was "The Harmonious Scamps," a trio who entertained with singing, dancing and bits of comedy. Major O'Laughlin, presented some new thrilling stunts in gun spinning. The last three days of this week another strong bill is being featured. Vann and Lestetto are appearing with their act as acrobatic comedians. D'Amico, a boy piano accordionist, has a delightful musical act. Annie Finburg and Co., have a dramatic sketch, "The Shoplifters."

MAJESTIC-CHARLEROI

The program for the week at the Majestic theatre was an excellent one made up of special features and variety programs. Monday "The Sponder" a drama taken from the book of the same name was shown. A variety program of short comedy and dramatic pictures was the attraction for Tuesday. Among the most popular were "A Little Tease," "The Diving Girl," and "The Butler." One of the large features of the week was "Bred in the Bone" with Dorothy Gish in the stellar role which was featured Wednesday. Julius Steger enacted the leading part in "The Master of the House" which was shown Thursday. Announcements for next week include "The House of a Thousand Candles" for Monday and "Vanity Fair" with Mrs. Fiske for Tuesday.

STAR-CHARLEROI

One of the funniest comedies ever shown anywhere was that of "A Tintype Tangle" with Roscoe Arbuckle featured at the Star Tuesday. Arbuckle portrayed a hen-pecked husband who suffered not alone at the hands of his fault-finding wife, but also from his critical mother-in-law. But one day he took on a cargo of fire-water, and there was an abrupt change. He became a slapping performer of the worst sort and made the homestead look like a tin can factory struck by a cyclone. Wednesday in the Mutual program the Star had the two reel picture "The Hammer" a good drama and on Thursday, "Fate Takes a Hand." All the films at the Star are received from the Mutual program. Manager Bliss and Grant are making good with their short daily program arrangement for a nominal price.

ALVIN-PITTSBURGH

The newest of all the farces and the funniest, "A Full House," will be the big laughing attraction at the Alvin Theatre for the week beginning Monday, October 18. This play was written by Fred Jackson, the well-known short story writer.

"A Full House" has nothing to do with poker, although its title might imply as much, but concerns the misadventures of a young lawyer who accidentally changes traveling bags with a thief on a train and the subsequent efforts of the crook to recover his loot lead to innumerable funny situations, which coupled with bright lines and amusing characterizations make "A Full House" a veritable laughing carnival. The company is heralded by Walter Jones, the funniest of all comedians, who plays a crook possessed of a sense of humor and a pronounced grouch.

NEW DAVIS-PITTSBURGH

Eva Tanguay, the comedienne of temperament, eccentricity and idiosyncrasy, is to be the attraction ex-

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—Miss AMELIA JACQUILLARD, 3961 Tchoupitoulas St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."—Miss ESTHER MACUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

Had Lung Trouble

and Expected to Die

The recovery brought about by Beckman's Alternative is attracting wide attention. Read about this case—"Gentlemen:—My wife, Mrs. W. V. Beckman, was taken sick in November, 1908. I grew steadily worse. Had two consultations. The doctor said that she was suffering from lung trouble and that my wife was dying. Only gave me two months to live. My physician had tried most all kinds of treatment and none did me any good, so he asked my wife if he objected to him trying a proprietary medicine. I began Beckman's Alternative. I was in bed November 20, 1908, until February 20, 1909, and was thought dying several times. Today I am healthier and stronger than ever." (Abbreviated.)

Extraordinary in the program of polite varieties at the New Davis theatre for one week beginning next Monday matinee, Oct. 18. That ought to be a signal for a box office line matinees and nights throughout the engagement for there is no performer on the stage who compares with Eva Tanguay in personal popularity and box office drawing powers. All her songs are new this season, all her gowns are new—such songs, such gowns only a Tanguay could sing and wear. Quite as much as the lyrics and songs, the gowns tell the story of her personality and trace the eccentricities of her temperament. But she is departing from her accustomed way this season and is rendering two numbers that are not personality songs. There will be many other attractions in the bill with Miss Tanguay, among them the Six American Cancans, an original sextet of stylish steppers in a melange of Terpsichorean diversissements representing six periods of American history; Mabel Barra, American coloratura soprano who has been featured in a variety of Broadway successes and will sing a repertoire of exclusive neat songs. Myrl and Delmar in an artistic novelty "Over the Garden Gate," and Eddie Emerson and Jerry Baldwin, the jesting jugglers and many others.

Safe to Pardon.
When a man is sincerely penitent, and gives satisfactory evidence of the same, he can safely be pardoned.—Lincoln.

HARDSHIPS OF THE DESERT
By Comparison the Average Man Will Think His Lot Cast in Most Pleasant Places.

We are almost across the desert, and I am really becoming interested. The difficulties some folks work under are enough to make many of us ashamed. In the very center of the desert is a little settlement called Eden Valley. Imagination must have had a heap to do with its name, but one thing is certain: the serpent will find the crawling rather bad if he attempts to enter this Eden, for the sand is hot; the alkali and the cactus are there, so it must be a serpent-less Eden. The settlers have made a long canal and bring their water many miles. They say the soil is splendid, and they don't have much stone; but it is such a flat place! I wonder how they get the water to run when they irrigate.

We saw many deserted homes. Hope's skeletons they are, with their yawning doors and windows like eyeless sockets. Some of the houses, which looked as if they were deserted, held families. We camped near one such. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy and I went up to the house to buy some eggs. A hopeless-looking woman came to the door. The hot winds and the alkali dust had tanned her skin and bleached her hair; both were a gray-brown. Her eyes were blue, but were so tired-looking that I could hardly see for the tears.
